WARREN GENERAL HOSPITAL administrator, Joseph Williamson, (third from the left), accepted the two-volume set of the recently published Electrocardiographic Test from the Warren County Heart association last Friday. The presentation was made by Wendell Peterson, association president. Observing the occasion were Dr. John Larson, Dr. Robert Donaldson, Dr. J. T. Valone and Dr. L. J. Borger, members of the Heart association's medical advisory board.

The new reference book is designed to give the staff physicians of the hospital the latest material on the reading and interpretation of electrocardiographs so vital to the detection and diagnosis of heart disease.

Airport And Playground Kept Alive By Council

The Warren borough council took two steps at its regular meeting Monday night that will assure a playground in the Conewango ave. area and possibly keep the airport open until something better comes along. It resolved to buy the Schultz property that has become known as Mulberry playground for the sum of $5,500, and will prepare a lease for a new port manager.

The property has been used by the borough for playground purposes under a lease arrangement. An option to buy was included and with the lease running out this year it was time to act on the option. The land is owned by August Schultz and Martha Schultz.

The airport may be leased to Melvin Barron, native of Warren and now living in Cleveland. He will be asked to pay $35 a month rent, pay the costs of utilities, allow the borough to use the machine shop, and he must feed the dogs in the dog pound which will be moved from the East Side to the airport. The lease will be subject to approval by council at the September meeting.

Bud Maier, who may assist Mr. Barron, explained that activity at the port will include cargo shipments, formation of a civil air patrol squadron, the organization of air clubs, and passenger flights.

Neil Culbertson, president of the Warren Chamber of Commerce, reported that a survey had been completed which indicated the need of a feeder port. He said the Chamber hoped to subsidize much of the airport costs.

Council accepted the resignation of M. E. Pettegrew as a member of the civil service commission and appointed Merle Kremer in his place.

It learned that Ralph Dalrymple, Warren fireman, was 25 per cent disabled by a fire at the United Refinery and voted to provide him with a full time clerk job in the department. It also voted to add another fireman. And it accepted the resignation of Max D. Radaker from the fire department.

Council resolved to ask the state to take over Park st. as a "through" highway and to erect the necessary stop signs.

Engineer DeBell reported that contracts have been signed for sealing and surfacing projects, and that current paving is about fifty per cent completed. The equipment tied up by flood repair work has postponed the completion of the Fourth st. paving.

He said plans for work on Indian and Glade runs were accepted by the Department of Forests and Waters and that it is hoped some portion of this work will start before fall in the Glade run area, and in the fall in other sections.

SPECIAL RECOGNITION was given these five ladies Sunday at the First Baptist Church. Each has been a member of the congregation fifty or more years. Those honored were (l. to r.) Mrs. Bertha Wheeler, 50 years; Miss Florence A. Page, 57 years; Mrs. Vida G. Ugard, 50 years; Miss Mary E. Trimble, 64 years; and Mrs. Jessie Wagner, 70 years.

WHAT IS HE? The eight and nine year olds gave fans plenty of thrills during Saturday afternoon's all-star contests.

Call Warren 3973 - R

An Irish clog is performed in the raftsmen's scene by Ernie Moore, a carefree riverman whose best friend is his little brown jug.

Oil transformed Tidioute in 1860 from a quiet village to a boom town. This monument marks the site just below the Tidioute bridge where the first flowing well was drilled by a Presbyterian minister from Warren, the Rev. Mr. Hequembourg, in August, 1860.

A scene from the Ben Hogan episode has its setting in the notorious establishment on Babylon Hill where reigned "the wickedest man in the world".

Tidioute's History Is Depicted In Pageant

By Lenore McIntyre

The small town of Tidioute is bustling and hustling these days in preparation for its Sesqui-Centennial Days which mark the 150th anniversary of its founding. The highlight of the celebration next week will be the presentation of a historical pageant, "The Favored Valley". The pageant, written and directed by Mrs. Helen C. Morrow with Richard Rapp directing the choreography, depicts the outstanding events in the town's history.

Henry W. Fuellhart as narrator, "The Spirit of the Hills", tells the story as the various scenes are portrayed by a large cast of Tidioute people. The first episode depicts the day of the red man as Col. Proctor meets with Chief Cornplanter and his people at Log-Trap Creek. The first white settlement in Tidioute is shown with Thomas Arters and his wife and other early settlers welcoming the first bride, Charity Gilson McGuire, to her new home.

The pageant moves swiftly through the days when Tidioute was famous as a raft harbor and the raftsmen's scene shows the follicking, rough-and-tumble antics of the river men. The first flowing oil well was drilled in a t Tidioute and this scene has particular historic interest. The story of the Harmony Society, or Economites, in their settlement at Tidioute also has special historic value.

Color and excitement is provided in the Ben Hogan episode with its bar room setting, oil-rich toughs, can-can dancers and, of course, Ben Hogan himself, "The Wickedest Man in the World", and his partner, French Kate.

Tidioute was incorporated as a borough in 1862 and the problems of the little town grown big at the height of the oil boom are well described in the council scene presided over by the first burgess, Luther Green, a role played by Tidioute's present burgess, Frank E. Kapp.

An early settler's family is portrayed here by Russell Peterson, Mrs. Richard McGuire, Candy Atkin, Peggy Hickman and Penne Jeschke. In the pageant, Mrs. McGuire plays the role of Charity Gilson McGuire who was the great-great-grandmother of the former's husband, Richard.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Wayne Courson are typical of Tidioute's bearded and bonneted residents. Both are in the pageant cast. Mr. Courson is a direct descendant of Anthony Courson, who settled in Tidioute in 1825 on a tract of land still owned by the Courson family.

Other scenes include the old-time Singing School, street scenes of by-gone days, the gift of the Hunter Memorial School, the Carnahan dream-well oil strike, the christening of Barbara Ann Snavley, a direct descendant of the first settler, Thomas Arters.

Nancy King, of the Metropolitan Opera Company Ballet Corps, will dance for her hometown folks in the finale, an interpretive portrayal of "The Spirit of the Hills".

The pageant will be presented in the Tidioute school auditorium on August 21-22-23 at eight o'clock.

SOCIAL SECURITY?

Because it wasn't so long ago that we had no social security at all, any improvement of that situation is hailed as a great accomplishment. The system was established during the depression. Later the size of the payments were increased. Now we have lowered the ages for women, able and disabled, and also have added disabled children to the list.

In our practical and business-like world we have left little room for the heart and much for the bookkeeper. Our relief and security laws are so bound up in regulations that it is a wonder anyone can be found who is eligible for a dime.

We never could understand why the small wage-earner could be expected to be less hungry than the salaried man. Social security payments at the best are not very lush and how anyone can be expected to pay their rent, buy their food and clothing, and live like a human being on a percentage of $108 a month is one that escapes us.

Under the newest change in the social security law we will start in November to pay wives of retired workers at age 62. Under this amendment, women 62 and up who are dependent wives of retired workers 65 and over are eligible to draw social security. Right now we pay them a maximum of $54.30, if their husband is receiving the maximum of $108.50, and if both are age 65. To which we must add, if he worked enough years in a job covered by social security to make him eligible.

Hunger or need do not determine eligibility. That is determined by the amount you have had deducted from your pay check. If you made big wages you get the maximum and can scrape by. If you were not a top wage earner, your social security payments are lower.

Shouldn't this be reversed? The man who has made big money should have been able to do much for his own security in the way of savings, investments, and insurance. It is the man who never made enough to save a penny who needs the most help.

The new arrangement allows a woman to start collecting at age 62 instead of 65. But she can receive only 75 per cent of the amount due her. If her husband made enough money to rate her the maximum of $54.30 a month, she will receive 75 per cent of this if she chooses to apply before age 65. If the couple does not rate top payments, she will receive 75 per cent of a lower amount. Big deal!

And if she chooses to start receiving these payments before 65 we really haven't handed her much. At age 65 her payments do not revert to the regular amount. They continue at 75 per cent. She is gambling on her life expectancy. *

Another change which becomes effective soon applies to women wage-earners who retire between the ages of 62 and 65. They will receive 80 per cent of the sum they would receive at 65. The maximum is $108.50. This isn't magnanimous, but if she has been frugal she will find it a big help.

But suppose she has been unable to be frugal? Suppose she was married to a man whose work did not make him eligible for social security, and supposing he died late in life, forcing her to support herself, probably at low wages. She now must settle for 80 per cent of something less than $108.50!

The one that always gets us is the payment made to widows and dependent mothers of insured deceased workers. We now make it possible for them to apply at 62. But we still pay them 75 per cent of the amount to which the deceased worker would have been entitled. This ranges from a minimum $30 to a maximum of $108.50.

How would you like to try living on 75 per cent of $30 a month? This in a nation of great wealth, a nation which spends billions every year for wars, past and present. A nation of "practical" businessmen, in and out of government.

We see no reason why the payments should vary in the least. We believe a figure should be named that will support a man, or a widow, or a dependent child. And if it takes a few more pennies out of all pay checks to cover such a cost, so what? Everyone of us will benefit; most of us directly.

The social security plan is a major step forward, and we certainly would not eliminate it. But we would improve it with the addition of a few more pennies in weekly payments and an ounce of heart to replace the present slide rule.

BUYERS' CORNER

WHERE THEY BEEN?

In last week's issue of Time magazine there is an article about a "new" experiment in newspaper publishing which is taking place in Middletown, N. Y. A wealthy gentleman from New York is publishing a daily with the use of offset equipment. The purpose of the experiment, says the article, is to make it possible for small investors to enter the publishing business.

The article says this is the first sizeable venture of its kind. Time's reporters should get around.

The offset method is relatively new in the publishing business, but Middletown is a long way from being the first. There are few papers using the method because most established publications have heavy investments in letterpress. They see no reason to change.

However, many of the leading newspapers are using some of the offset methods to prepare copy. We know some that are setting their ads on the art table, just as your Warren Observer is done. The art table sits right by the make-up stone in the shop.

We are acquainted with several papers that are printing daily with offset presses. We have been in contact with them for several years. One of the leading pioneers is in Louisiana. The method was so new when this group started that they had to put together a make-shift press.

There also is a daily down on Long Island, right in Time's backyard. This one uses the same press and collator combination as the one on which your Observer is printed. In fact the 32-page collator which now sits in our shop was given much impetus when the Observer agreed to buy the new press if such a collator could be designed. It took about a year and a half to complete the job and we received the first one.

The Observer also is using the offset process because of its hope that it can find methods whereby freedom of the press will not be completely in the hands of those with big money. In our capitalistic nation it is healthy to have all economic groups represented in the mediums which report the news and comment on it.

The day of the two-newspaper town also has gone by because merchants will not support two costly dailies. However, if less expensive ways could be found to publish those dailies, competition might return to the publishing field even on the small town level.

The fact that your paper is well known and respected in this field may be found in the fact that the editor has been asked to serve on the offset newspaper production committee of the National Editorial Association, and also to be a member of the Association's advisory council.

You have something in your hands that is so progressive that Time magazine hasn't caught up with it. Warren may not have scored a "first" in this respect, but it is not far behind, and much of the machinery and supplies used in the Observer plant were actually in the field test stage when they first arrived. Some still are.

Few weeks go by that we do not receive letters from publishers who want information about equipment and our methods. Some plants very close to Warren have decided to go offset because we have been too busy to publish their papers for them. One of these is in Gowanda, N. Y.

A paper is starting in the Oil City, Franklin, and Titusville area, and would like us to handle the printing. But again we are unable to handle the extra work. If we publish more pages, they will be our own.

We believe this is of interest to the buyers because these new developments in printing are bound to have a very powerful effect on public opinion. Any new process that will affect the printed word is closely related to all of us.

The offset method has many advantages. Its quality alone is enough to justify its use. Its cost is relatively low. Its speed is great. It has flexibility for art work and design. It intrigues the imagination of young printers with initiative, and fulfills the dream of many older members of the trade who have not become so hardened by time that they have lost their ability to adjust and to progress.

It still is the tomorrow to much of the trade, but very much today for a few with vision. And it is the kind of vision that assures you something fresh and new in journalism content as well as in the mechanics of production.

It is free press, once again assured.

KILL THE MOSQUITO

They got a new one to keep flies and mosquitos off your back. It is called malathion and it has been approved by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. This means it can be safely used around homes, camps, and farms, and will take over where DDT no longer seems to be effective, such as the resistance developed by the culex tarsalis which is a carrier of sleeping sickness. Malathion knocks him cold.

Democrat Vice President Now A Puzzle

By Doris Fleeson

CHICAGO, ILL. -- Adlai Stevenson's managers are taking careful soundings on three possible Vice-Presidents -- Senators Hubert Humphrey, Estes Kefauver and Jack Kennedy.

Within the Stevenson circle, Humphrey probably has the most supporters. They argue that his campaigning ability and acute political intelligence make him the best possible foil for Vice-President Nixon. They cite his popularity in the restive farm states, and his following among the crucial minorities of the big states.

The point is raised in opposition that he is a byword in the South ever since he beat the southerners on a civil rights' issue in 1948 when a young upstart mayor from Minneapolis. His friends answer that he has made his peace with southern Senators who publicly testify to their liking and regard for him.

The pressure for Kefauver and Kennedy comes chiefly from the outside.

Kefauver supporters are openly and defiantly pressing his claims for second place. They threaten to deny their votes to Stevenson without an advance commitment to this effect. Kefauver has arrived here still declining to commit himself.

The Senator from Tennessee would take the nomination of course. He will not openly seek it.

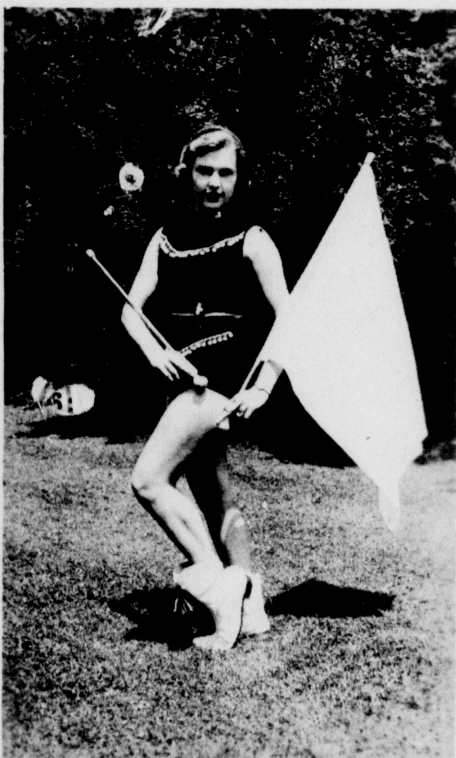

There is a demand for Kefauver also from two other sources. One is from the professionals -- a unique experience for Kefauver and them. The other is from a large segment of labor.

Labor incidentally is being outwardly discreet in this convention. The presidents of the international labor unions are here but AFL-CIO President Meany is confining himself to an appearance before the platform committee. Labor's political action specialists are notably DOWN MEXICO WAY. Warren Explorer Scouts, accompanied by executive Elmer Morgan, returned home last night after spending two weeks at the Philmont Scout Ranch at Cimarron, New Mexico.

MISS BEVERLY JOHNSON

Appearing with the Chief Cornplanter Council American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps on Saturday, August 18, will be Miss Beverly Johnson.

Beverly has distinguished herself in the field of baton twirling, having appeared in "Who's Who in Baton Twirling in the United States and Canada" for the past two years, entering various competitions and also heading the "Kordian Kids Band", and marching with the Beaty Dugaree Band and the Warren High School Dragon Band.

She now has eighteen pupils studying privately with her.

absent.

They frankly hope to avoid the over-emphasis on their power within the party which has reacted against them unfavorably on occasion. There can be no doubt that if this convention seemed headed in a direction they didn't like they could and would change the signals very abruptly.

As it is, no candidate who has a chance for either of the top positions is regarded as hostile to labor. So labor, too, is playing the harmony tune -- pianissimo.

Speaking up for Senator Kennedy are the New England governors, including the attractive Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut. All the opposition to him is sub rosa but it is strong.

It comes from two sources -- the South and the Catholic Democratic professionals from big states who are still afraid of re-opening old wounds. All profess nothing but friendship for the personable young war veteran and they have no criticism of his record in the House and Senate. Nevertheless, in private they speak out strongly against his candidacy.

There is uneasiness among Stevenson's close friends about the possible effect the keynoter, Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee, will have on the convention. They do not have him on their V-P list but his well-advertised evangelical eloquence makes them fear he will put himself on it. Some thought his speech was big medicine -- if one likes that kind of thing.

Highways and Skyways Discussed By C. of C.

Support toward saving Route 6 on the Federal Interstate System and the Warren airport were the chief topics of discussion at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce this week.

The seniors decided to expand their manpower support to the "Save Route 6 Committee" by offering financial assistance. Current expense has been born by the Bradford Area Chamber and McKean County Motor Club. Business men and industrialists interested in the survival of the route are being asked to donate funds to the committee which has engaged an attorney to spearhead the attack.

Warren representatives will be in Bradford Friday to help organize the fight.

President Neil Culbertson reported that a special committee has taken a survey of local industry and business that shows the need for maintaining the Warren airport. The group is working with borough council on the matter.

In Brief

PERSONALITIES, Mel Anderson, state committeeman, his wife, and Mrs. E. O. Pequignot are Warren Countians in attendance at the Democratic Convention in Chicago.

Five 4-H club members were delegates at the 32nd annual 4-H club week at the Pennsylvania State University August 13 to 16. They were Myrtle Bairstow, Russell; Ardeth Bull, Nancy Curtis and David Gordon, Columbus; and Ted Bosko, Pittsfield. Accompanying the group were Mrs. Geraldine Johnston, extension home economist, and Bernard Wingert, assistant county agent.

A PLEA OF GUILTY was entered by Jeanne Beech, Pennsylvania ave., W., Warren, when she appeared in Warren County court Monday on a charge of leaving a scene of an accident. She was ordered to pay cost of prosecution, fined $50 and placed on one-month's probation.

For violating his parole, Theodore Knisley had his sentence revoked and was ordered to the Pennsylvania Industrial school. Last March he received a suspended sentence and put on probation for contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

The court also approved plans for reconstruction of the Court House annex porch.

A SIX YEAR OLD, Rodney Bednez, was treated and discharged from Warren General hospital last Wednesday after he darted in front of an auto driven by Mrs. Helen Heymann, 15 E. Wayne st., at the intersection of Market and Second streets. The youngster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bednez, 215 Eddy st., was walking ahead of his mother when he ran in front of the auto before the driver could see him.

He suffered a fractured collar bone, and bruises and abrasions about the body.

A STATE SURVEY TEAM was in Warren Wednesday morning to cast their eyes on the present high school and see if this community is in need of a new school on a new site or if the present structure can be renovated.

The team will make its recommendation to the State Department of Public Instruction. School authorities expect an answer in six weeks.

FLYING TO CALIFORNIA Saturday will be Sam Bonavita, Warren attorney, who will attend the Republican convention as an alternate delegate at large. Sam expects to be back the following Sunday, with the winning ticket fully arranged.

A DRUNKEN DRIVING charge was placed against Ray Sampson, 306 Pine st., Monday evening after he struck a parked car on Pennsylvania ave., E., in front of the Pierce Hotel. The driver failed to stop at the scene and was apprehended by Gordon Bennett, 9 Hammond st., owner of the parked auto, and witness, in front of the State Dinor. Police were summoned at that point.

A GRAND VALLEY YOUTH, 12 year old Neal Thompson, was rushed to Titusville hospital early Tuesday afternoon with a broken left leg and bruises about the body. He was injured when he ran in front of a vehicle operated by Jesse Sanden, also of Grand Valley, about nine miles north of Titusville on Route 27.

A ONE-CAR MISHAP that occurred at 1:25 a.m. Sunday resulted in $500 damage and hospitalized Miss Clara Silvis, of Benazette. The car in which she was riding went off the highway three miles east of Sheffield on Route 6. Joseph Parana, Johnsonburg, was the driver.

SCHOOL BUS INSPECTION. State Police will conduct a school bus inspection in Warren August 20, 21 and 22 between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m.

Sgt. Donald Holmes of the local substation suggests that: 1. Any bus with an old arrow type signal should have it changed to the flasher type. 2. Strong bulbs be placed in flashing stop light. 3. Busses be cleaned and in good mechanical condition. 4. Drivers have physical fitness certificate for the year 1956.

New drivers who need to take an examination can do so on the regular dates, each Wednesday and the second and fourth Fridays of the month.

A PLANT IS CLOSING in Sheffield, with about sixty men put out of work. The Jafco Marine Inc. is moving its equipment to another area and will discontinue its Sheffield production. The plant at one time employed about one hundred men, but in late months production has been gradually reduced. Officials explain that they have consolidated with an eastern firm and will not need the Sheffield plant.

DOWN GO automobile liability and collision insurance costs for Pennsylvania drivers who are over twenty-five. The reduction applies to most areas outside of Philadelphia. Philadelphia's loss experience is too high for a reduction to be allowed. The collision rate reduction is state-wide. The reductions average 5 per cent for collision and 7 per cent for liability.

THE STATE NEEDS a parole supervision specialist and will pay $6,090 to start. The position is in the central office of the Pennsylvania Board of Parole in Harrisburg. Deadline for applications is August 24, and the written examinations will be held September 15, one of them in Erie.

NEW WEATHER detectors have been ordered by the Weather Bureau. Thirty-one powerful radar sets that will accurately track all kinds of storms and will measure their density so that flash floods can be predicted, now are on order. Eventually the entire nation will be blanketed with them. They are being manufactured at the rate of five per month.

Jaycees Hear Several Project Reports

There was activity galore at the monthly meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce last night.

The most current project on the agenda was the Tennis Court Dedication program that will be held at the Beaty field site at 1:30 Sunday afternoon. At this time President Robert Geiger will formally present the combined tennis courts and ice rink to Burgess William E. Rice, who will represent the borough. Following the program a tennis clinic and exhibition will be held.

Another project of the organization comes up next month when the Jaycees operate the concession stands, reserved seats and parking during the football season.

A Jaycee Junior Tennis Tournament, explained elsewhere in this edition, will be held August 25th.

An invitation has been extended to local members and their wives to attend a dinner-meeting in Jamestown on September 13 when the national president, Wendell Ford, will be present.

FAIRWAY PITCHES

The scramble for the golf championship of the Conewango Valley Country Club was stirred into a mixture of eager beavers with a hopeful look in their eyes by Dr. Folmer Yerg last Sunday morning when he upset Tim Creal, two up. Tim has worn the crown on fifteen different occasions and was heavily favored to repeat.

His defeat leaves the championship flight wide open with every man a potential champion. There isn't a player in the championship flight who can't defeat any other in the group over the 18-hole route if the ball is popping into the hole for him.

Dr. Yerg now must play John Carter who defeated Bob Walsh, 3 and 2. Tony Creal, son of the defeated champion, has ousted Chuck Blackman, 4 and 3.

Bill Rice defeated Harold Smith, 3 and 2, and will meet Dr. Sedwick who got by Tom Atwell, 6 and 5.

Skip Morine will play John Trevenen, the winner meeting Tony Creal. Pete Juliano plays Phil Pritchard, with the winner playing the victor in the Bob Anstadt and Heggie Schmidt match.

First matches are for the purpose of determining flights. The winners in the first division go into the championship flight and the losers enter the first flight. The next division is split into flights two and three after the first round of matches. The third division splits into flights four and five.

Play then starts within the flights, the losers in first round matches going into a consolation flight. A man can lose three times before he is through.

Two foursomes tied for the lead in the weekly tournament at the C.V.C.C., which was a best ball of four event. One team consisted of Harry Barley, Allen VerMilyea, Ray Stein, and Lou Wanner. The other was composed of Tom Atwell, Milt Dahler, Bill Lundahl, and Nummy Lundahl.

This week it is match game against par and next Thursday it will be low gross and medal play with full handicap.

KINZUA TOURNAMENT

Golfers of the area will be gathering at the new Kinzua course Saturday, August 25, when the first annual Kinzua Valley Golf course tournament will be staged. The golfers will be divided into three flights and will play eighteen holes. Entry fee is $5, including lunch.

To assist the pairings committee, players are asked to have their entry blanks in by Monday. Tee times will be set and late entries will be forced to take starting hours that are left, if any.

IN NATIONAL

Harry Bittenbender, of Oil City, who for a few years during the war owned and operated the Penn Bowling Center in Warren, played in the national left-handers golf tournament. He had a 77 the first round, but no later reports were received. Harry once was the runner-up in this event.

WOMEN'S CHAMPIONSHIP

The Conewango Valley Country Club women's championship has been held up by the weather but now is under motion. Helen Culbertson has defeated John Lavery and will meet Ellie Voigt who had a bye. Anne Blackman defeated Red Walsh and will play Myrl Lawson who had a bye. Maude Blair defeated Marie Hamilton and will meet Katherine Fuellhart who byed. B. J. Fisher and Joan Carter drew byes and will meet to complete the championship flight.

JUNIOR COMPETITION

Titusville Country Club golfers invaded the Warren course Tuesday for a junior match. A tournament was held for both boys and girls, and within the two groups.

Leading the Titusville boys with 109 was Jim Stevenson. Jim Broadhurst had the best five holes and John Sweeney the best par 3 score.

Dave Fuellhart had 90 to lead the Warren team. Ross Kremer had the best five holes and Bob Yerg the best par 3.

Among the girls it was Charlotte Haskell who led Titusville, with Bonnie Lindquist having the best five and Anne Broadhurst the best par 3.

Penny Barley led Warren, with Carol Blackman and Jane Culbertson winning the specials.

The younger Warren members had their weekly tournament, with George Loranger leading Division 3A. Doug Angove, Bill Rice, and Phil Pritchard tied in the putting contest. Lane Donovan led the girls in scoring and Martha Gannoe won the girls putting.

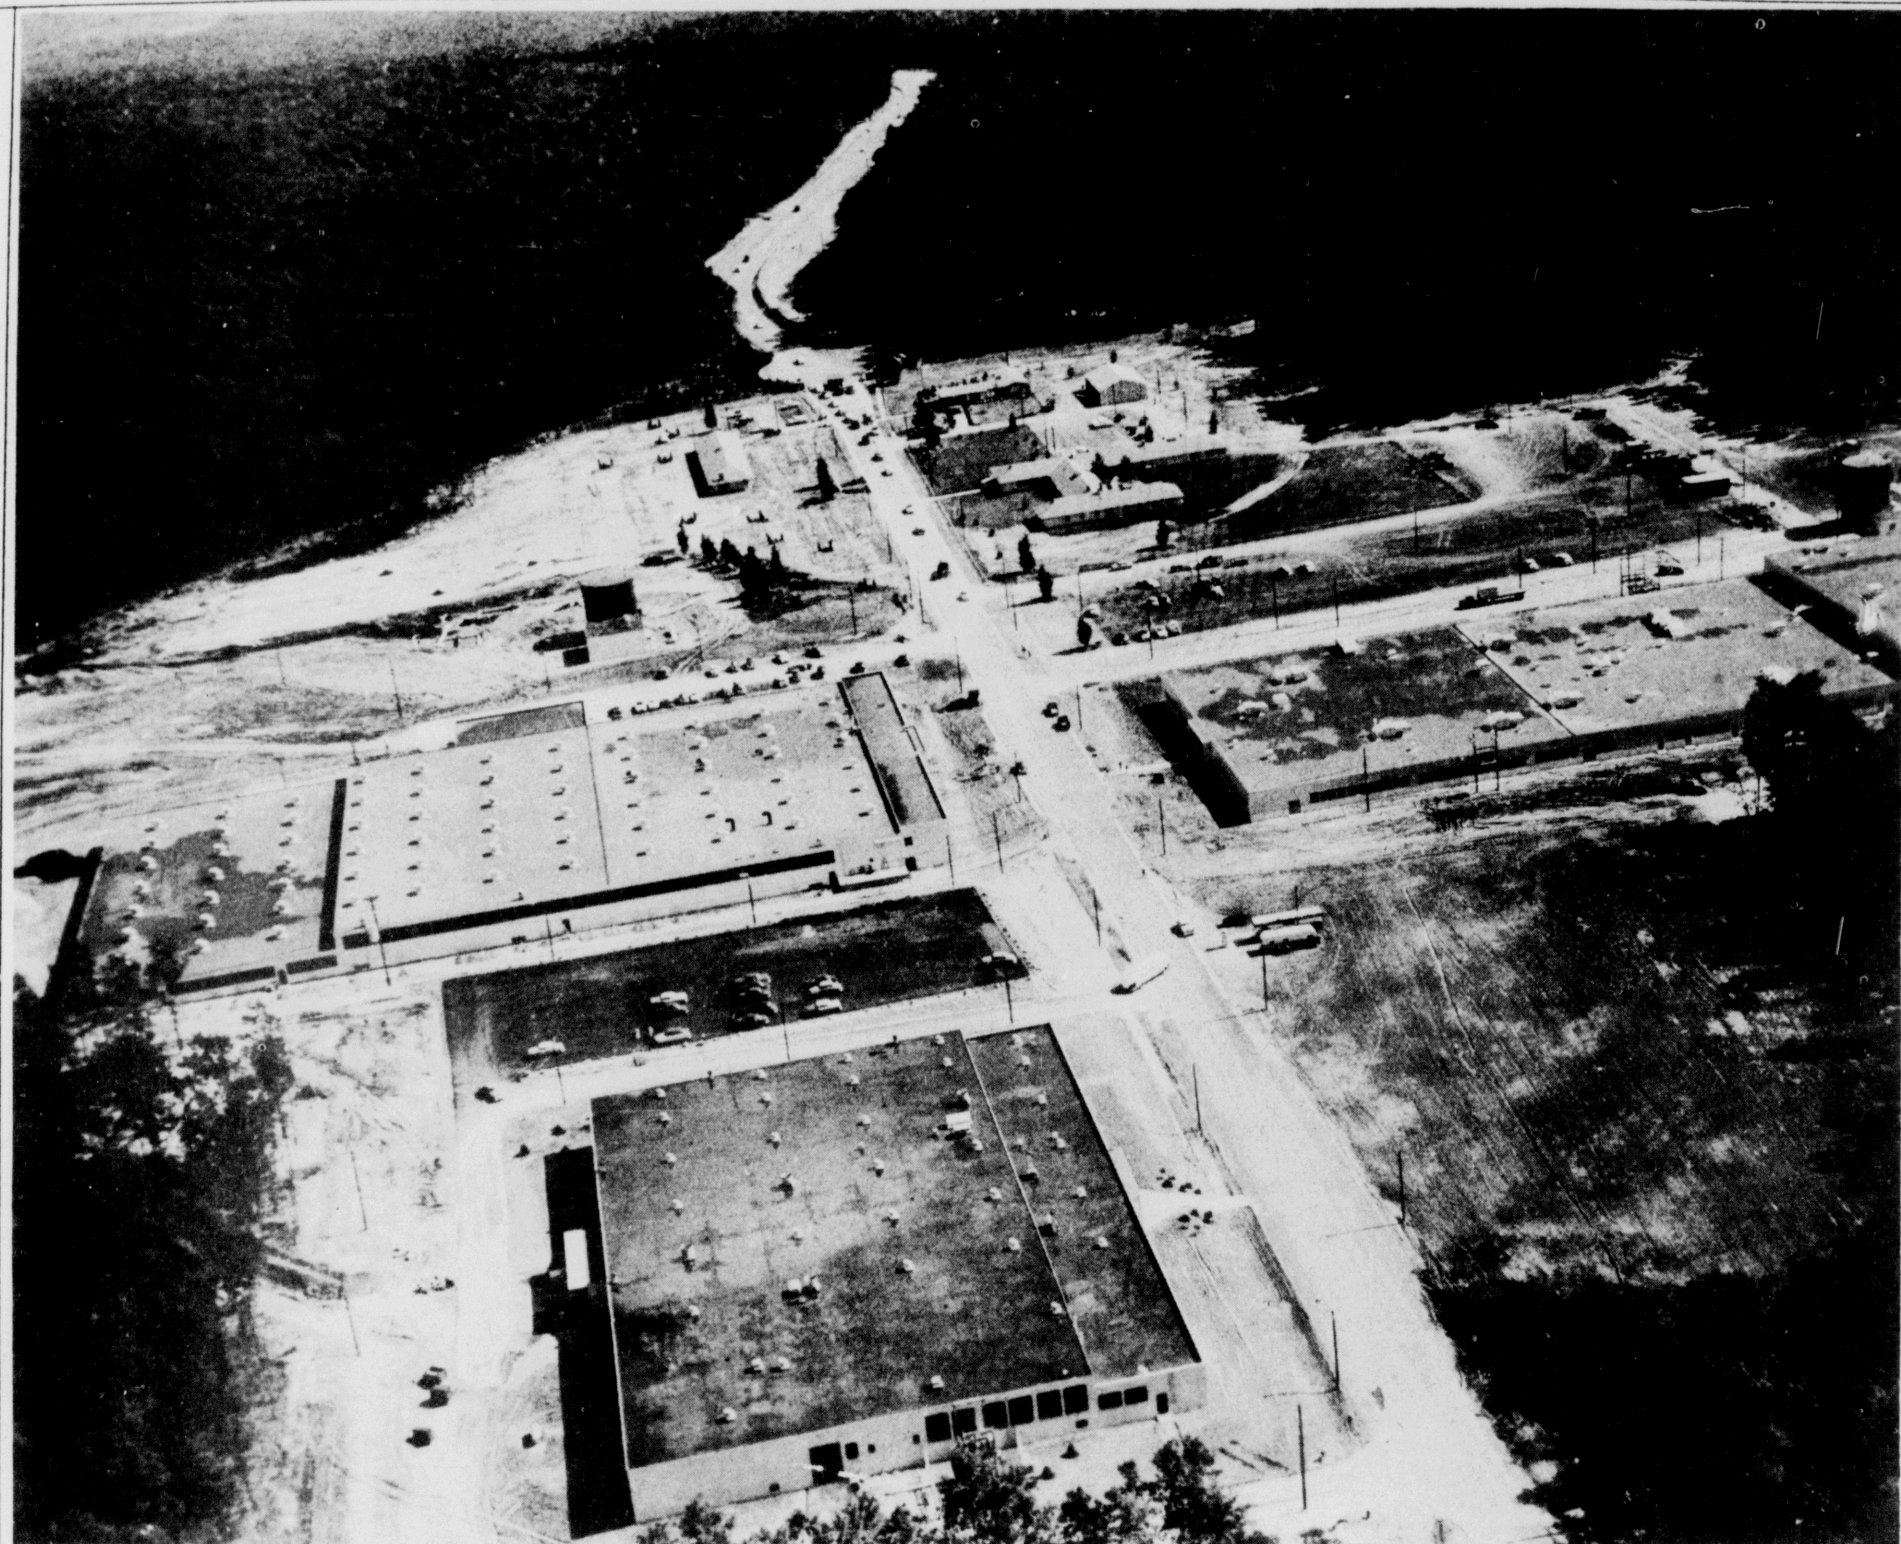

In Division B, Chuckie Schmidt was the winner, and Jackie Angove was the best putter. Sally Newmaker led the girls.

LADIES WEEKLY

Myrl Lawson had a 90 to lead the C.V.C.C. ladies in their weekly tournament. Marie Hamilton led the first division in the odd holes contest. Laura Beckley topped the second division.

In net play, Myrl Lawson led the first division, and tied for second were Ann Blackman, Maude Blair, and Mary Keller. Mildred Paucek and Laura Beckley were tied for the lead in the second division. Merle Donaldson was second. Third division was led by Kay Walker, with Magda Fanaritis second.

SENATOR JOHN DENT spoke to the crowd that gathered for ceremonies at Curtiss-Wright's new research and development center at Quehanna on August 8. Seated behind the senator in this picture by Leroy Schneck are company and administration officials.

AWARDED CITATION. Roy T. Hurley (left) chairman and president of the Curtiss-Wright Corp., was presented the Pennsylvania Meritorious Medal Citation by Governor George M. Leader for the role he played in locating Curtiss-Wright's new research and development center in this state.

The new center, which is located at Quehanna in the Clearfield area, brought the promise of jobs, better living conditions and a fuller life to thousands of Pennsylvanians.

In this picture by Leroy Schneck, program director of radio station WNAE, Mr. Hurley is presenting a memento of the August 8th occasion to the governor.

SMOOTH

If you should be in New York some time and can't buy tickets for a popular play, don't be discouraged. There is a way, if you are young, feminine, charming, and own an extra fin or so.

Proof is a young lady from Warren who was vacationing in New York this summer and wanted to see My Fair Lady. Her friends assured her that she might as well give up such an idea because the play was sold out months in advance.

However, she is a persistent little lass and she visited the ticket window just as if she were home and visiting a movie. But she was stopped short by the ticket clerk who said no tickets would be available for months . . . if ever.

But she hung around, finally edging over to a janitor who was sweeping the walk. She casually asked him if he knew any way she could get into the show. He asked her if she wasn't the lady he had just asked to stand off to one side. She took the hint and did so.

In a few minutes he worked over her way and out of the side of his mouth asked her how much she had. She wasn't very sure what figure to pick, so she took a flier at $5. He suggested she keep her eye on a certain door. And he took the $5.

About the time she was wondering if she had donated $5 to a fast-talker, a man came to the door and signalled her in.

She stood up, but she saw the show.

If you doubt the story, ask Joan Lavery.

POUND FOR RENT

Go west, my son, go west, if your dog's the borough's guest.

So will go the heart-rending melody if present council plans go through. No longer is the West Side going to the dogs. The dogs are going to the West Side.

Those who look to the skies for a major part in Warren's future may have their plans altered by so small an item as the cry of a lost puppy or the fragrance of accumulated dogs.

Part of the price of keeping the airport open is the care of the dog pound. This now is on the East Side, and the neighbors naturally aren't happy. The neighbor of an unhappy dog is apt to find its mood infectious. Especially when enough of them need a bath or gather together for a co-operative complaint.

The airport is somewhat isolated and the committee on dogs has got together with the committee on airports and suggested that they combine forces. Thus the new port manager will feed the inhabitants of the pound as a part of his obligation to the borough for letting him take wing from our runways.

Councilman Miller wanted to know if the manager also would buy the food. He was assured he only had to open the cans.

So, this fall if you are looking for your dog, visit the airport. He no doubt will be willing to take off like a bird.

BIG WEEK

A century and a half of existence will be observed down Tidioute way next week. A program has been printed, including a brief history of the community, and containing many valuable pictures. It should prove a popular souvenir.

A very capable job of quick research by our Tidioute editor is represented in this interesting historical resume. Based on similar facts, Helen Morrow and Dick Rapp of Warren have put together a pageant which will be seen Wednesday and Thursday evenings. In it will be seen a representative cross-section of Tidioute residents, many of them descendents of the town's founders.

Other features include a flower show, Friday and Saturday afternoons in the Presbyterian church, afternoon games and contests for the young people, and a pair of ball games. One of these will be an old timers contest, Friday at six. It will be followed by a band concert, provided by the Warren Moose. The other ball game is set for Saturday afternoon, with the current town team meeting a strong club of visitors.

There will be a parade on Saturday evening at seven, with numerous prizes for marching units, comic bands, floats, vehicles, and other classifications. It will be followed by a street dance.

Throughout the week there will be the usual fun and frolic to be found in a small community when it is celebrating. Many old timers will return, guests will be many, and also returning will be beards, bonnets, and bustles.

So as not to confuse the days, they are August 22, 23, 24, and 25.

"Robot Secretary" Now Available To Public

An automatic telephone answering device -- a sort of "robot secretary" -- which can take incoming calls and give the calling party a short message is being made available to the public by the Bell Telephone Co. of Pennsylvania. Several installations for small business concerns already have been made in this section of the state, according to Robert E. Anstadt, local manager for the company.

A development of Bell Telephone Laboratories, the device is designed primarily for professional people, one-man offices, shops and similar businesses. It looks something like a portable radio.

Here's how the service works. A subscriber who expects to be away from his office telephone for a while makes a recording explaining his absence. The recording is connected to his telephone and anyone calling during his absence hears his message over the telephone line, after which a 25-second period is provided for the caller to leave a message.

A "beep" tone is sounded at the start and just before the finish of this period to indicate to the caller the time available for the recording of his message.

When the subscriber returns he can listen to the messages recorded in his absence by picking up his telephone, through which a play-back of any incoming messages will be heard.

MANAGER R. E. Anstadt, Bell Telephone Co. of Warren, looks on while Paul W. Yagge listens to recorded message on his telephone answering device.

SECOND ATTEMPT. Pat Madden (center), star YMCA swimmer, will be making his second attempt to swim Chautauqua Lake on Sunday, August 26, in the fourth annual Conquer Lake Chautauqua Swimming Meet sponsored by the Jamestown "Y".

Last year Pat accomplished the task of swimming from Prendergast Point to Midway Beach in 37 minutes and 26 seconds, good enough for second place in his division. On August 26 he will try to cover the mile and a quarter distance in the 16 years and under division.

Standing here with Pat are Dick Scalise and Ron Billett, who will man the row boat that accompanies the swimmer.

Travel Shifts Into High Gear

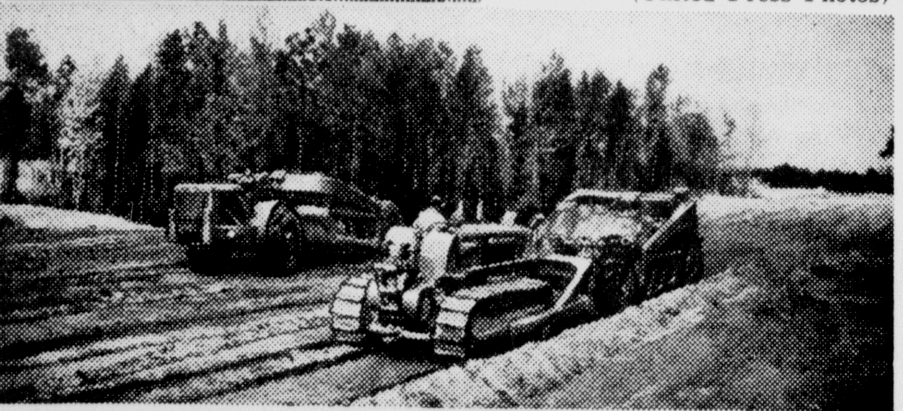

HERE COMES TOMORROW—Italian designers have come up with this sleek plastic bus creation which they claim will cruise over the roads at 125 mph. To be powered with a gas turbine engine, one of the planned models will carry up to 32 passengers.

LONGEST ROAD IN THE WORLD—The Kansas Turnpike, terminating in this wheatfield on the Oklahoma-Kansas border is, at present, a road with no end, but not for long. Just as soon as Oklahoma allocates the necessary funds, the new four-lane superhighway will knife its way through the farmer's field and he'll have a new, faster road to get his grain to market.

MAN BEFORE THE HORSE?—Transportation shades of the past are recorded here, but in reverse, as a London dock worker acts as the beast of burden to a valuable polo pony. The animal appears to be enjoying the novelty of watching the man do the work. (United Press Photos)

ROADS FOR TRANSPORTATION—Earthmoving equipment such as these International Harvester giants are very necessary to most forms of transportation. Before sleek automobiles and streamlined busses can skim over the ribbons of concrete and asphalt, high-speed earthmovers and crawler-type tractors, must first make the roadbeds. Fleets of equipment similar to these units, move millions of yards of rock and dirt in incredibly short spans of time and at surprisingly low costs.

HOT STOVE LEAGUE

"Help Keep Them Slugging"

SUCCESSFUL ALL-STAR DAY

A tip of the hat to the Warren Kiwanis Club and Hot Stover leaguers for the fine exhibition of baseball performed last Saturday in the five all-star games at War Memorial field.

Spectators kept the stands filled throughout the games in support of the Kiwanians' Underprivileged Childrens' Fund and the Hot Stove program in Warren county.

The results of the contests were: Bantam League -- West 9, East 2; Midget League -- East 5, West 1; Cadet League -- East 12, West, 2; Intermediate League -- County 10, City 9; and Junior League -- East 3, West 2.

JUNIOR LEAGUE

Youngsville American Legion planted a 1-0 shut-out against the Style Shop in a Junior loop game that was called in the sixth on account of darkness Friday night, Rodgers, the winning hurler, and Kremer, the loser, each allowed three safeties.

BANTAM LEAGUE (Eastern Division)

The New Process nine suffered its lone defeat of the season at War Memorial field Friday night when it was upset by Warren Transfer, 2 to 0. The contest was a replay from Wednesday, when the two teams battled nine innings and were still deadlocked 0-0.

Transfer's Thompson was on the mound and fanned 16 men over the route. He was only tagged for one hit by Dave Rydholm. Lind was the losing moundsman, but staged a nice two-hit performance. He struck out 13 players.

Following the game Friday the N-P boys were taken to the Wigwam for a special treat by their manager Fred Rydholm and parents. The youngsters presented their manager with a wallet in appreciation for his efforts.

BANTAM LEAGUE PLAYOFF

Jim Johnson allowed only one hit as he pitched Thomas Coupling to a 9-2 victory over Warren Transfer in the first of the Bantam league playoffs for the city championship.

The western hurler was backed at the plate by Dick Chapel, who clouted a pair of homers, and Jim Crosby, who added another. Thompson homered for the eastern nine.

INTERMEDIATE LEAGUE

A wild throw that allowed Joey Massa to score was the deciding factor in Betts Machine's 1-0 win over Industrial Oil at Clarendon Tuesday night. The tally came in the fifth frame.

John Tassone, pitching two-hit ball, registered his 11th mound victory in 12 starts. Nicky Creola shined at the plate with a pair of doubles.

The game was a replay of an earlier Betts protest and gave the team the second half title. Clarendon won the first round. The best-out-of-three series for the big crown opens at Jackson field tonight.

Last Friday Betts dumped the VFW by a score of 7 to 3.

MIDGET LEAGUE (Eastern Division)

There is plenty of good baseball going on in the Midget league these days, with playoffs all over the place.

Last Tuesday Mack's News eliminated Interlectric in second-half action, 11-1. These two, along with Kinzua Legion, were deadlocked for last half honors with 6-1 records.

This Monday Mack's lost, 9-3, to Kinzua, thus giving the latter the second half championship.

These two top teams will meet at Beyer field tonight to determine the eastern division championship. Mack's finished with a 7-0 record the first round.

CADET LEAGUE (Eastern Division)

J. A. Johnson's walloped Anderson Bakery, 9-3, at War Memorial Field last night in a second-half Cadet league playoff that paid off with the eastern division championship.

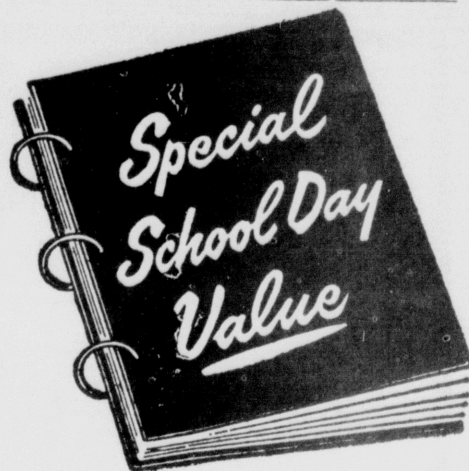

The victors will not face Craft Agency, western champs, for the league title. The first game is slated for Friday at Beyer field and the second next Tuesday at Jackson field.

Last night's game saw Ronnie Seder tossing four-hit ball with support at the plate coming from Cooper and Forslund. These stickmen, along with Seder, each smacked three singles. Betts had a triple for the losers.

JUNIOR LEAGUE DISCUSSED

Discussion at the Hot Stove committee meeting last night leaned toward a decision to drop the Junior league (boys 16 to 18 years) in the 1957 season. The reason -- lack of interest on the part of boys in this age group.

Also considered was the possibility of splitting the league into county and city leagues. This year there are 26 county teams and 33 in the borough.

THE NATIONAL FOUNDATION FOR INFANTILE PARALYSIS

MRS. ROOSEVELT VS. TRUMAN

By Thomas L. Stokes

CHICAGO. -- Adlai Stevenson owes much to a tall slender, still-erect woman who has no reticence about her age.

"I will be 72 in October," says Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Most any time, most any place, wherever she can give Stevenson a boost, you spot the gay, flowered toque which is her identification mark bobbing up and down above the little mob scenes and the big mob scenes that make up national political conventions.

None is quite so busy, nor so calmly efficient, about a mission at this somewhat storm-tossed affair.

The picture of the convention unfolded to reveal an unusual human story -- even for a political convention -- in the wake of former President Harry S. Truman's dramatic announcement for Governor Averell Harriman of New York.

This was a duel between him and Mrs. Roosevelt, a duel which, it became apparent, each recognized for what it was, but without giving any public sign, of course.

Together, these two have shared so much in the tumultuous 20-year Roosevelt-Truman era -- the widow of Franklin D. Roosevelt and the man who succeeded her husband. Each has respect and affection for the other and a bond in shared experiences.

Drama was inevitable when they found themselves pitted against each other -- and drama it has been. You could feel the tension as one act of the play within a play followed another.

For her part in this political warfare, Mrs. Roosevelt found a weapon which an older woman can use with an older man. It is a reminder by the woman to the man of his years and of the full life which they represent and a suggestion that perhaps it is time to step aside and not try to run things any longer but to let the younger generation take over.

She put it this way at a news conference she held the day after the former President had announced for Governor Harriman, her opening shot in the Truman-Roosevelt war:

"I'm old. Of course, Mr. Truman is much younger. But nevertheless, I think we two are probably the people who remember further back, perhaps. But just for that reason I think we must make a special effort to think of the future.

"I'm glad that the Democratic party is showing that it has many young people that are taking responsibility, and I hope that this campaign will show that we have vigorous young men and women working for the Democratic party and for Adlai Stevenson as our leader."

Mr. Truman is, as a matter of fact, five months older than Mrs. Roosevelt -- near enough so he knew what she meant by her reproof. It was gentle and friendly. Afterward, the two had lunch together.

Again Mrs. Roosevelt drew out her weapon -- this time before 15,000 persons in convention hall and millions more in the television audience, and in the presence of Mr. Truman who sat in a box on the right of the hall with Mrs. Truman.

Once more she took the same line about the need of young people taking over, saying:

"Our party may be the oldest democratic party, but our party must live as a young party and it must have young people. They must take into account the advice of their elders, but have the courage to look ahead, to face new problems with new solutions."

She did not, of course, mention President Truman. But anyone aware of the duel could see, almost feel, what was passing between those two in the great convention hall.

The former President must have enjoyed another aspect of Mrs. Roosevelt's performance about FIFTEEN FOREIGN STUDENTS and their guides invaded Warren Wednesday afternoon through the efforts of the Rotary Club. They will visit here for the remainder of the week at individual homes.

On Thursday a tour of the United Refining Co. has been arranged for the college group and Friday they will go to Sylvania Electric. The rest of their schedule will be arranged by their hosts, with whom they are pictured here.

Upon their arrival in Warren they were greeted by borough officials and other civic leaders.

MUSICAL GYMNASIUM. Sweet music, with a few sour notes mixed in on occasions, has been flowing from the Warren high gym recently.

This is a typical scene. Harry Summers, director of instrumental music, instructing his potential Dragon Band.

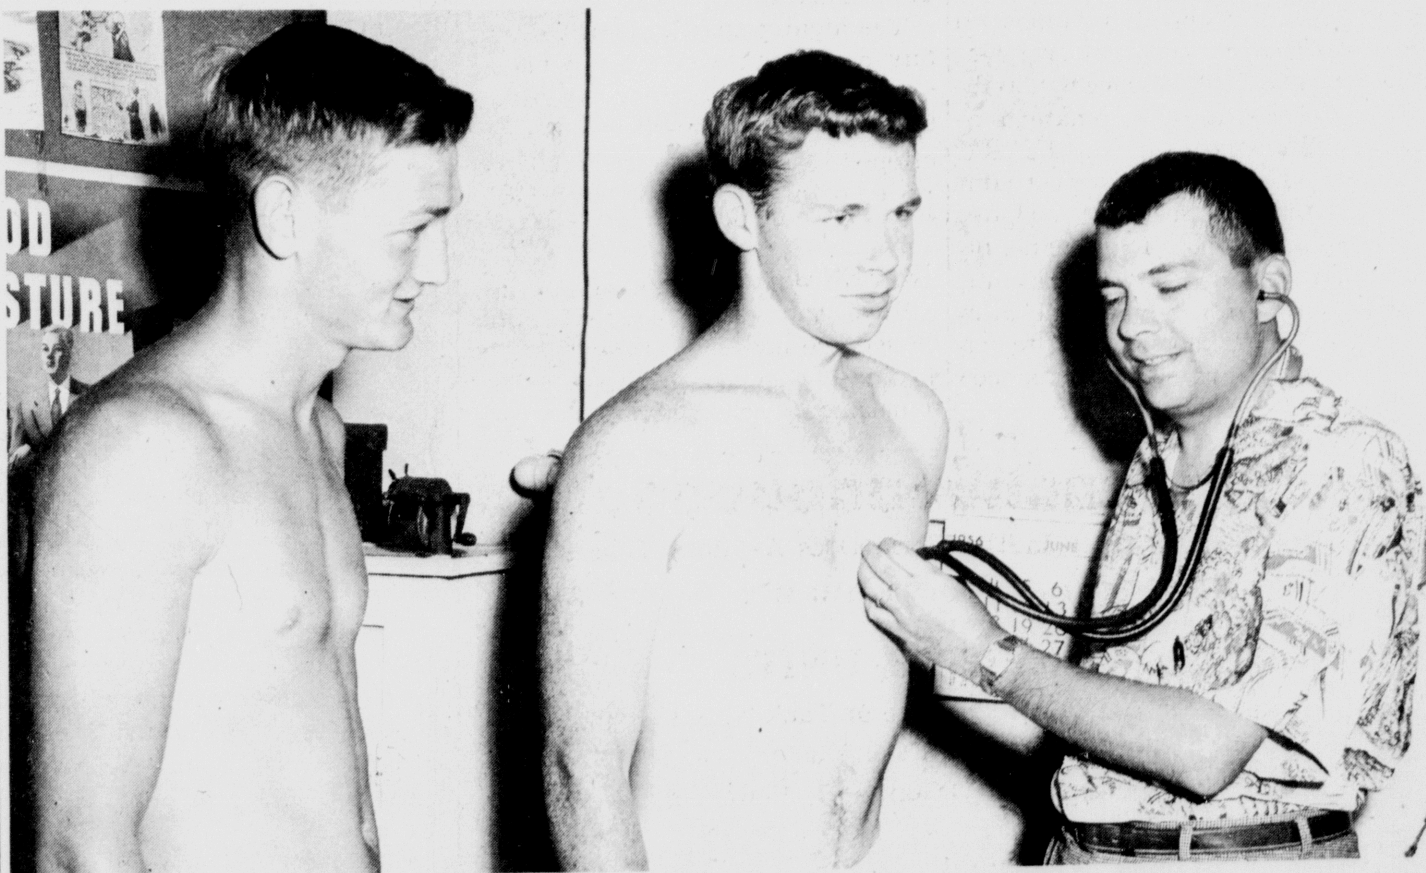

which a man would say, "Just like a woman."

She explained that she could not in such an address to a national convention speak of candidates, and she did not -- but, pinned just under her right shoulder was a large square badge with a single name blazoned across it that hit the audience in the hall and the vast television audience like a locomotive headlight on a foggy night. The name: "Adlai."

Early the next morning, Mrs. Roosevelt was at her politicking for "Adlai" again. She accompanied him to a meeting of Estes Kefauver's delegates who were released by the Tennessee Senator when he withdrew recently in favor of Stevenson.

In an effort to get as many of the Kefauver delegates as possible for Stevenson, Mrs. Roosevelt spoke a word about her candidate, who sat on the platform with the Senator.

This act of grace, which she carried off coolly in the almost-insufferable heat of a packed room, was just the beginning of another day in her duel with Harry Truman.

IN PREPARATION for the opening of 1956 football practice this Saturday, Warren high gridders reported for pre-season physicals at the school Wednesday morning.

Dr. John Larson is pictured here checking over Jim Griffin as John Berdine waits his turn. Both are returning lettermen on Coach Fred Bell's team this year.

FINAL P-Y STANDINGS

The Starlite Bombers finished on top of the Penn-York baseball league this season with a record of 17 wins and only two defeats. Others in the eight-team circuit finished like this: Ludlow, 14-5; Marlin-Rockwell, 11-7; Warren Elks, 10-10; Bradford, 8-8; Art Metal, 7-12; Green Brothers, 2-18; and Jamestown Moose, 6-13.

The playoff between the top four teams will open Sunday with Ludlow entertaining Marlin-Rockwell and the Bombers playing host to the winner of Saturday's Warren-Bradford game.

Saturday's contest will be played at the State Hospital diamond. It was scheduled to break the tie for fourth place in the standings percentage-wise.

LUDLOW NIPS ASHVILLE

Larry Wilson pitched six-hit ball when the Ludlow Wildcats nipped Ashville, N.Y., in a Penn-York fracas at Ludlow last Sunday. At the plate Basil Kulka and John Castagnino helped with doubles.

The big stickman of the afternoon was Ashville's Jeziorski. He clubbed a pair of homers.

This Sunday at the park it will be Marlin-Rockwell and the Cats appearing in the semi-finals of the league playoff.

McGINLEY WINS FEATURE

Clarion's John McGinley reached the checkered flag first in the 25-lap feature race at Skyline Speedway Sunday night. Piling in behind him were Nelson, Patrick, Johns and Knapp.

There were several special events. Joe Sauner, Jamestown, N.Y., grabbed the high point race trophy in a field of nine drivers, and Don Bailey used a modified car to defeat Jim Patrick in a match race. In the latter event Patrick used a late model car.

Modified races appeared on Skyline track last night for the first time this season.

Smith, Sauner and Stearns won the heats Sunday, Nelson and Knapp took the semis, and McGinley triumphed in the consolation.

KEGLING RUMBLES

With the high school boys out there warming up on the pigskin, we also hear alley talk. The Penn Bowling Center is lining up its fast leagues and will open for practice from Wednesday to Saturday, starting next week.

The Elks have had their first league meeting and at least one woman's circuit is getting organized. Meanwhile, on the national scene AMF dropped a bombshell into the kegling world by announcing through its Pittsburgh distributor that its fully automatic pinsetter would be used for the ABC this year. This is the first time that Brunswick has not supplied all equipment and alleys for the big one. Brunswick also has a fully automatic setter ready, but alley owners are finding it hard to buy unless they are building a new house.

WARREN KIWANIANS DEFEATED

In a five-inning softball game that followed a picnic supper at Wildcat Park last week, the Kane Kiwanis club edged out a 10-9 victory over the local Kiwanians.

Playing for Warren were L. Borger, R. Betts, F. Price, R. Wagner, R. Anstadt, F. Wood, R. Johnson, C. Winans, H. Curtis and M. Marshall. The manager was W. Sechriest.

The outing was co-chairmened by Warrenites Monroe Marshall and Bob Anstadt and is expected to become an annual event.

WIN NON-LEAGUE CONTEST

The Warren Elks ball club extended its win streak to six at the State Hospital field Saturday afternoon with a 5-4 triumph over Kennedy, N.Y. It was a non-circuit contest.

This Saturday the local nine will entertain Bradford in an effort to claim a berth in the Penn-York league playoffs that start Sunday. A win will break a tie with Bradford and pit the Elks against the Starlite Bombers.

DERBY CHAMP AT AKRON

Warren's Soap Box Derby champ, George Newman, Jr., was eliminated in the second heat at the colorful 19th All-American Soap Box Derby in Akron last Sunday.

The local winner, after recording a neat qualifying time of 27.5 seconds, was victorious in his first effort down Derby Downs. His time of 28.43 over the 975 foot track defeated Robert E. Letson, Fort Worth, Tex., and the German champion, Jurgen Beihn.

In his second heat he was defeated by Robert Earp, Anderson, Ind. The top competitor in the event was Norman Westfall, Rochester, N.Y. He received a $5000 college scholarship and the large Chevrolet trophy.

AT SKYLINE SUNDAY

A regular eight-event program will be featured at Skyline Speedway at Sugar Grove this Sunday evening with a starting time of 8:30. The team races originally scheduled to begin this week end have been postponed until August 26.

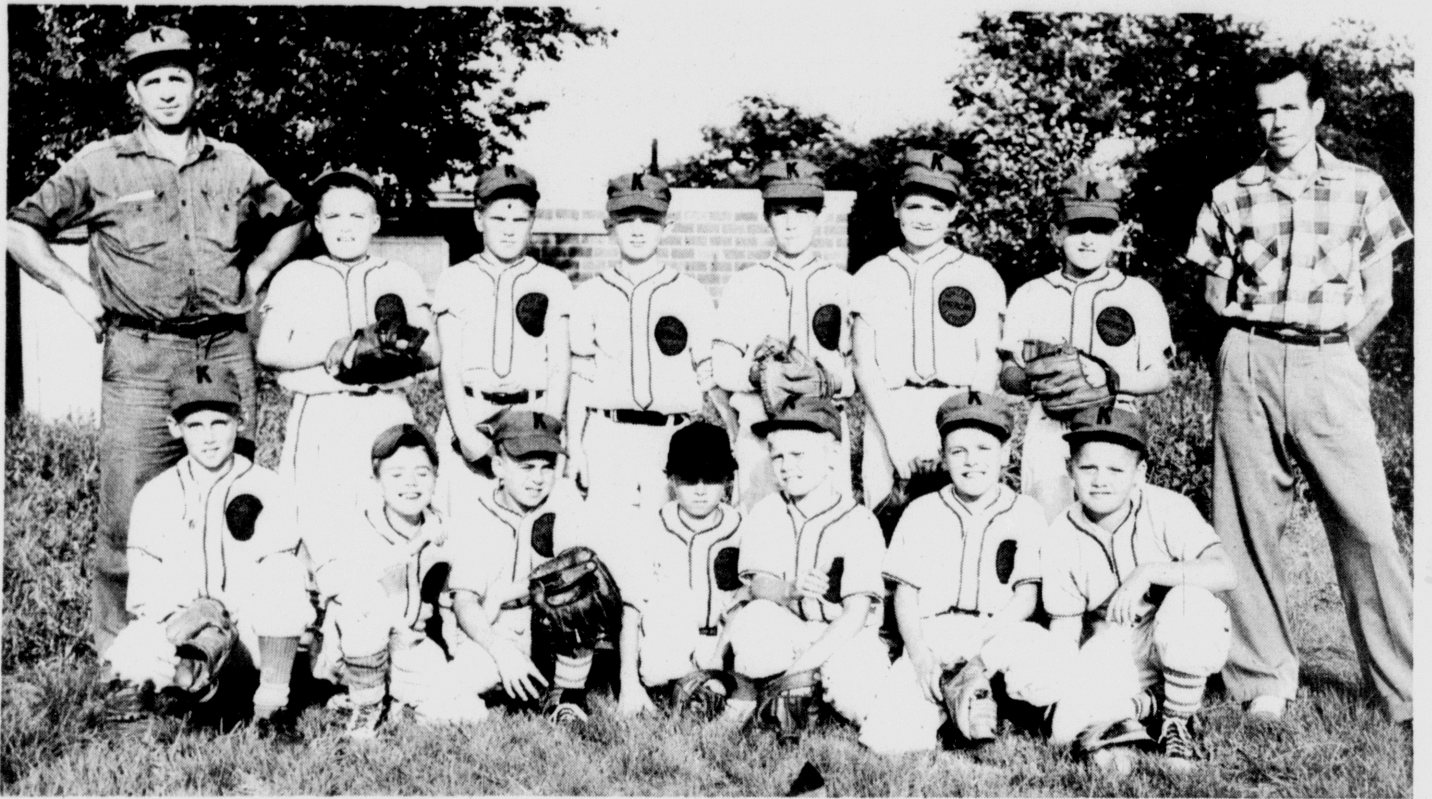

Among the figures appearing for this week's attraction will be some of the top ten pointmakers, Jim Patrick, Squirt Johns, Gus Nelson, Joe Sauner, Emory Mahan, John McGinley, John Seeley, Don Bailey, Fred Knapp and Dean Layfield.

CITY LEAGUE ACTION

The highlight of City softball play this past week was Texas Lunch's 9-6 upset of Certified. Guiffre's blasted the Indies, 20-9; Certified clipped Bakers, 11-2; and Texas rolled over Guiffre's, 17-9.

JR. TENNIS TOURNNEY

Boys and girls under 18 years of age are invited to compete in the Jaycee-sponsored Junior Tennis tournament scheduled for August POTENTIAL CHAMPIONS. Undeclared in seven games the first half, the Mack's News team now finds the going tough as it comes time to name an eastern Midget champion.

Under the tutelage of Harry Tourtellott the squad ended the second half with a 6-1 record and in a three-way deadlock with Kinzua and Interlectric. They defeated the latter 11 to 1 but lost to Kinzua Monday by a 9-3 count in the play-off. The two played at Beyer field Thursday night, the winner going against Struthers Wells, western winner.

PLAYGROUND SOFTBALL competition is a favorite of the boys. In there fighting it out for Lacy playground are (l. to r.) kneeling -- Bob Barney, Jim Tinelli, and Dave Anundson; standing -- Supervisor Dave Olson, Dick Tannler, Paul Zock, Den Cooper, Bob Lindberg, Bill Ritchie, Andy Peterson and Elg Flick.

25th at the Beaty courts. Applications are available at the Toy Center, 424 Pennsylvania ave., W.

There will be trophies and prizes awarded in the various divisions.

A tennis clinic and exhibition will be conducted at the courts on August 19.

105 TAKE PHYSICALS

Head Coach Fred Bell reported that 105 high school boys took physical examinations Wednesday as an initial step toward the opening of the 1956 practice session at Beaty field Saturday.

Of those that reported Wednesday, 18 were seniors, 15 juniors, 31 sophomores and 41 freshmen. At least 15 more are expected to turn out.

EARN PLAY-OFF BERTH. By virtue of an impressive 9-3 victory over Mack's News Monday night, the Kinzua Legion nine will now battle the same team for the Midget eastern division title. Mack's won the first round.

NON-PROFIT AMBULANCE

Why not a non-profit association for the purpose of providing an ambulance service in Warren and the surrounding area? Plants and individuals probably could be found who would provide enough money to buy the ambulances and build housing. We believe the council and commissioners would make up the difference if there were a small annual loss.

With most insurance policies now allowing something for ambulance trips, why should there be many trips made for nothing? The loss would be slight if all the ambulances were supervised by a single service.

The ideal location would be the hospital. The natural place to call for such service is the hospital. The scheduling of patients must be made with the hospital. The personnel could be used by the hospital when it isn't busy with ambulance trips. The hospital is centrally located.

Why should Warren have anything less than the best? The loss, if any, would be so small that it seems ridiculous to have anything else. But first let's get the money to start it. What better way than a non-profit group of civic-minded citizens?

THE EMBLEM ON TAXES

This probably should be in the BUYERS column but it is a little full and this won't wait for next week. It is a release put out by Emblem Oil Company concerning the high cost of gasoline taxes. The heading reads, "Average Gasoline Tax Now 8.8¢ Per Gallon". Here is the article:

"It was announced today by Emblem Oil Company that with the latest increase of 1¢ in The Federal Tax on Gasoline, which became effective July 1, the direct Federal and State Taxes in Pennsylvania now total 9¢ per gallon, as opposed to 7¢ per gallon in New York.

"On the national average, the direct State and Federal Taxes now total 8.8¢ per gallon; this amounts to MORE THAN 40% of the average retail price for Gasoline, taxes excluded. This is several times greater than the tax on even the so-called luxury items. With this latest increase, the nation's annual motor fuel tax bill will top four billion dollars. The average motorist will be paying more than $66.00 per year for State and Federal Gasoline Taxes.

"By law, these direct taxes must be collected at the point of sale and turned over to the governments involved. The money raised from these taxes will be used to improve the nation's roads. The need for new and improved roads to make driving safer and more pleasant for everyone has long been recognized, and this nation should have the best road system it is possible to have.

"However, it seems only right that everyone should realize how much of the price they pay at the service station goes to buy, not Gasoline itself, but better roads."

THEN THERE IS THE BRIGHT SIDE

Even children who work may be claimed as exemptions. It may sound confusing but exemption may be claimed by parents if they contribute more than half the child's support, regardless of the amount earned by the child.

The special exemption applies to children who will be under 19 years of age at the end of the year, and to children who are full-time students, regardless of their age.

This means that it no longer is necessary to have your child stop working before he earns $600. If the young man or lady is attending school an exemption can be claimed. Or if he or she is under 19.

PLAN MEMBERSHIP DRIVE. The 1956-57 executive board of Warren Players has been meeting this summer to formulate plans for the organization's membership campaign "kick-off" dinner slated for early September.

chairman; standing -- Richard Rapp, president; Chuck Barrett, stage manager; and Richard Stone, recording secretary.

Other board members are Mrs. Marshall Morrow, program chairman; Miss Sunny Lucia, custodian of properties; Mrs. Edna Swanson, corresponding secretary; and Miss Jean Steele, treasurer.

This season's first Warren Players' production is tentatively scheduled for the middle of October.

National bank, are back in school. They are attending the fifth annual Pennsylvania Bankers Association summer school at the Pennsylvania State university, August 19 to 24.

COURIER WILL PUBLISH

The family of the late Luther Pollard will bring out the Youngsville Courier this week despite the death of the well known publisher. Mr. Pollard died yesterday morning.

YOUNG HUSTLERS

Flood relief was provided by two young North Warren girls, Susie Loper and Susan Bollinger, who decided something should be done to assist the afflicted. They organized a group of boys and girls into a carnival and circus crew and put on a show in their backyard, Friday night. The net result was a $5 contribution to the Red Cross. All parents please note.

BACK TO BACK

An interesting combination of subjects are due for discussion at Chautauqua this coming week. "What I Saw in Russia" will be the subject of Dr. Herbert Gezork, who was one of the churchmen who visited the Communists in March, 1956. He will talk Friday, August 24, at 8:30. And every morning next week there will be a lecture by Dr. H. Conrad Hoyer, of the National Lutheran Council. As executive of the missions division he should be well up on his subject which will be "A Fresh Look at the U. S. A."

There you have the two major nations as seen through the eyes of the clergy.

DYSTROPHY SEND-OFF

A TV marathon will be held over WGR, Saturday through Sunday, to start off the muscular dystrophy drive for funds. John Reed King will emcee the show which will feature professional and amateur talent from this area. It will start at 10 p.m., Saturday evening and last sixteen hours.

OUTDOORS

ROUGHING IT

Not long ago we filled at least part of this column with a lament for the lost art of camping out. It seemed to us that most camps had become little more than fresh air playgrounds.

Last week we received an account of a western trip taken by a few Explorer Scouts and their leader. It reads like the kind of experience some of us once gloried in and from which we learned much about the outdoors and its mysteries.

It was written by Fred Gaghan and already has appeared in the local daily. We will not repeat it. But the boys are in New Mexico, where they are hiking and camping on the Philmont Scout Ranch, near Cimarron. They are packing mules, taking shake-down hikes, cooking their meals, having their food stolen by bears, and doing it up right.

Those on the trip in addition to Fred are Clyde Baker, George Ball, Dick Brown, Jim Hewitt, Paul Trauffer, and Craig Wyman. They are accompanied by their leader, Elmer Morgan. If we receive a second account in time to give it to you fresh, we might use it this week. ***

THEY REALLY ROUGHED IT

Next week Tidioute will celebrate its sesquicentennial, and when you read the resume of that community's history you are brought back to the days when to live outdoors was to do for your existence what many of us now do for pleasure. It was a camping ground for the Indians before the white man arrived, and received its eventual name from the name of that camp, which was Tdiiothde, meaning "point of land" in the Indian tongue.

The first white men had to make peace with these residents of the forest and then clear land enough for their homes and farms. Game and fish, which had sufficed for the Indian, now was food for the early settlers. It was urgent pot hunting, not the fancy kind with barbless hooks and pump guns. A shot had to pay off for meat in the kettle.

To read this early history is to make you feel the experiences through which these hardy ones passed. And what always is driven home with great impact as we read these accounts is the fact that behind nearly every name there was a woman, a woman with the courage to enter this wild country with the man she loved and to fight out an existence.

Even compared with the ladies in these pioneering contingents the modern camper is a pink-skinned dandy.

FOXES LIKE CROW

Either two game commission men are poor with the crow call or foxes like the black birds' meat. They let loose with a few calls in Huntingdon county and in two hours had six foxes show up. Three were shot. Because friends doubted their story they went out with the call again and proved it by getting two more.

No telling what a crow call will get you. Not long ago we reported the case of the snapping turtle which came out of the water to see what was making the racket. Maybe his wife had left home.

Some day we will report the one about a crow showing up. ***

STOP THEM EARLY

There is a chicken in Monroe county who doesn't believe in giving a hawk a chance. She was handed the job of hatching out the eggs of a cooper's hawk. She did the job, but as each hawk was hatched she took a critical look at it and immediately killed it.

Either she knows her birds or she didn't know what the old boss rooster of the yard would think. ***

ABBREVIATED

Down in Columbia county there are three squirrels which never will fly through the air with the greatest of ease. Some day a hunter will get them and start wondering where they got their crew cut, and those blood-shot eyes.

They were found hanging from a limb by their tails. They had become entangled and part of their tails had to be removed to free them.

NATIONAL GUARDSMEN of Warren's Company I boarded buses at 6:00 a. m. Saturday to spend two weeks training at Indiantown Gap.

LT. EMORY MAHAN, second from left, shouts out commands as National Guardsmen stow their gear aboard buses that carried them to Indiantown Gap Saturday.

The amazing part was that the accident apparently happened when they were quite small, and they were half grown when found. And they were in fair condition.

Apparently ma grey had fed them like birds. They never will get all that blood out of their heads. But then, there is less tail to handle it.

WITH FULL EQUIPMENT members of Company I departed from the State Armory on Hickory st. Saturday. They are now experiencing two weeks of summer training with 8,000 other members of Pennsylvania's 28th National Guard division.

CONVENTIONING

If your tv schedules as printed seem to be kicked around these days blame it on the smoke filled microphones. With every mail comes in a new list of changes, as programs are scrambled to fit the shifting convention schedule.

One of the best notes we received read, "Note to Editors: If a delegate is selected on Wednesday... Lots of Luck. We'll fill with film."

So now you know. (Ed. Note. Wonder if they meant "president".

A note from WGR says cancel everything and make room for the Democrats from 9:30 to 12:00 a.m. today, but the programs canceled are in the p.m. Who's more confused than the tv programmers? It also says make room for the Democrats on Friday from 11:30 to 6:00 p.m., and from 9:30 to midnight.

WBEN tells us to tell you that the Democrats are off the schedule from 12:30 p.m. to 1:00 p.m., when they will be back on until an unknown time.

Down KDKA way they say the same thing about the Friday starting time, with 1 p.m. now it. But if none of this works out and you see Rin Tin Tin when you expect Stevenson, Harriman, et al, don't mistake it for Kefauver's coonskin hat.

We do know that if all goes on schedule, Harry S. Truman will address the convention this evening at 9:30. However, he won't talk if they haven't made a choice. Or he won't until they do. After his speech, balloting for vice president will start.

If the candidates are chosen before Friday noon there will be no daytime session and you can adjust your sets, or yourselves, accordingly. Friday night the acceptance speeches of the president and vice president nominees will be heard at 9:30.

However, if balloting takes less time than expected, throw all of this away and tune in tonight for the acceptances.

How you doing?

And if this isn't enough, you are in luck, because on Sunday, at 5:30 p.m., over WBEN, and at 7:30 over WGR, there will be previews of the next one, involving the Republicans who will go through the same cycle in San Francisco. All stations will be in full GOP voice by Monday, most of them at 2 p.m., and all no doubt at 7 when Gov. Arthur Langley of Washington will give the keynote.

But don't worry, they will stop the GOP broadcast Tuesday night just in time for the $64,000 question at 10 p.m. This will not involve who is to be the Republican nominee.

DIAL SPINNERS

Those championship bowling matches that never were received on Warren county screens, cost the producers $350,000. However, they are on film and no doubt will be sold to various stations for area programs. Don Carter made the most of the series. He stayed on long enough to win $8,000, and included one 800 series.

Delete Vocalist Don Cherry and Sharon Kay Ritchie, Miss America of 1956, from the Russ Morgan show, Saturday night. Replacements we don't know.

The WGR Farm Maid of 1956 can't fake the part. This is open to the first one hundred who send letters in to the WGR Farm Maid Contest, 184 Barton st., Buffalo 13, N.Y. The prizes range from a trip to New York to an electric broiler.

But the letter must list her civic, scholastic, and church background, and she must display her needlework at the Erie County Fair, and bake cakes, pies, and cookies on stoves provided. She also must display her skill at milking a cow. That should do it.

Television and Radio

By John Crosby

OPENING DAY

After pleading for years with convention chairmen to get the proceedings started on time, the television boys were almost caught with egg on their chin when the Democrats did. As Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler banged the gavel at a few minutes after 1 p. m. (E.D.T.), the NBC crowd thought he was just practicing. But he wasn't.

"This is the first time in the history of conventions that proceedings have got started at the appointed hour," he said.

This meant that for half an hour the TV lads had nothing prepared for the cameras except introductory convention oratory. The first full-bodied phrase to roll out was that of Mayor Richard Daley, of Chicago, who told millions of TV listeners who could hardly have cared less that: "I was born in the shadow of this great hall, a neighborhood rich in the traditions and culture of this great land."

Ten and a half minutes after Mr. Butler banged that gavel, Betty Furness, who has called this convention her greatest challenge, swam into view and started selling refrigerators and TV sets. (The TV sets are "precisioneered" and the refrigerators have "cold in motion," words we are going to hear a lot of the next couple of weeks.)

After half an hour of floor oratory, the networks started spreading their wings to show they had cameras scattered all over Chicago, and I must admit it was impressive. CBS brought in Dick Hottelet talking to Congressman Moss, of the Platform Committee; a few moments later NBC brought in Joseph Harsch on the same subject; at the same time John Daly brought in George Hamilton Combs in the Harriman headquarters, talking to somebody who confidently predicted Harriman would have 400 votes in the first ballot. There was no doubt about it; we, whom Mr. Butler referred to as the "millions of unseen Americans in the television audience," were getting around Chicago at a dizzy pace.

And not just Chicago either. Late in the afternoon, after the session had been adjourned, NBC -- with nothing else on its mind and a half hour of time to fill -- took us all over the country to Milwaukee, Columbus, Ohio; Los Angeles and Boston, where newspapermen from local papers summed up the sentiments in those communities. Conventions, as H. V. Kaltenborn observed, are great big town meetings and these remote pick-ups are making great big national meetings out of them. NBC called its round-up a "caucus," and plans to have them throughout the convention.

Since "Wide Wide World" it has been difficult to keep NBC from pushing those buttons, jumping us unseen millions from one coast to another. John Daly has mused that in 1984 the delegates may all stay home and just push buttons, sending hired demonstrators to mess up the aisles at the convention hall, and perhaps they will. It's certainly comfortable at home. I've pushed my way into the Conrad Hilton, waited hours for elevators, and eaten those convention hot dogs before.

The misinformation and speculation you get in the corridors in convention hall is no more complete than the stuff you get at home on television and, if anything, you get less of it at the convention and not nearly as fast. The biggest event of the first afternoon on TV was a meeting between Sen. Lyndon Johnson and Adlai Stevenson. Both NBC and CBS managed to get cameras up there and pretty well wrecked Sen. Johnson's suite. But neither side managed to get anything out of either Johnson or Stevenson about what had transpired.

As a demonstration of the flexibility of their coverage, it was impressive; as news gathering, it was a bust. Still, it had its value in creating a sort of gathering sense of excitement and uncertainty about a convention that had seemed a fairly open and shut proposition until last week-end. Rarely have so many commentators said "I don't know" in such an interesting variety of ways.

As personalities, the Roosevelt family was all over the place. James Roosevelt, Franklin D., Jr., and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt were all on the air at various times.

Mrs. Roosevelt said she had been to more conventions than she could count and added: "I'm not very fond of conventions. It seems to be pretty much a pageant. Too much hullabaloo, not enough serious thinking. It's an American institution, all right, but I'm not sure it's one of our better ones." (C) 1956, New York Herald Tribune Inc.

SALE

Abstract of property taken in execution upon the writ shown at the number and term shown, as the property of the named defendant, owner or reputed owner, and to be sold by Albert DiMeolo, United States Marshal for the Western District of Pennsylvania, on Thursday, September 27, 1956 at 10:00 o'clock A. M., E.D.S.T. at location of property described below.

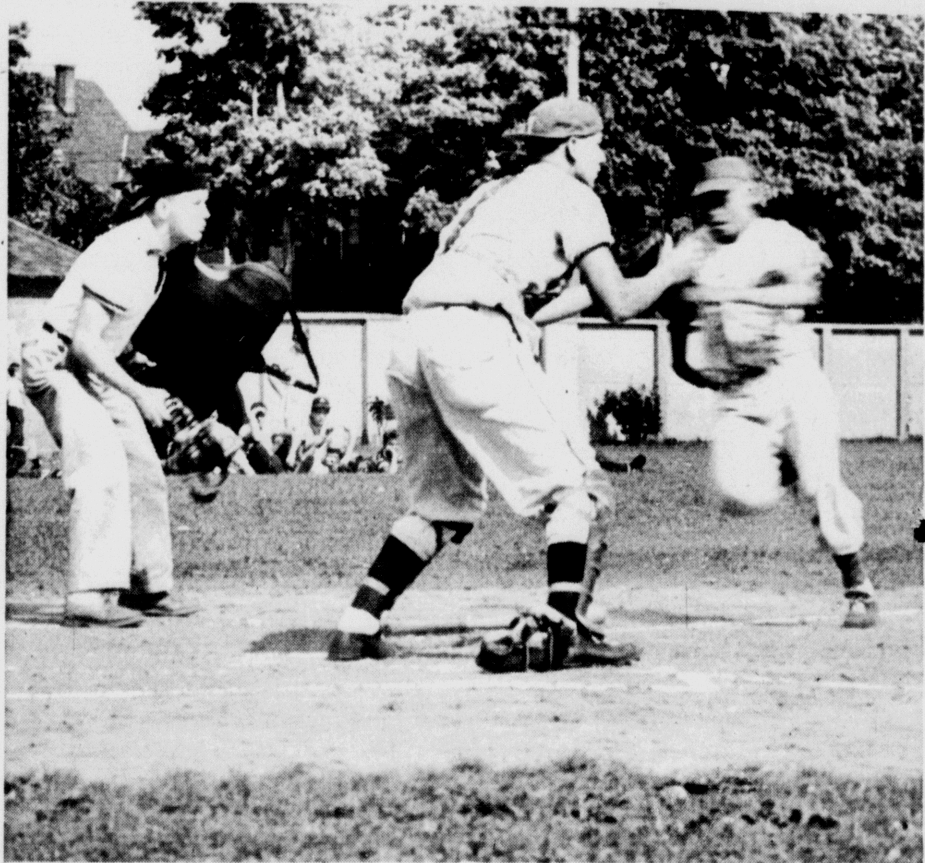

CONDITIONS OF SALE:
Successful bidder will pay full amount of bid at time of sale, otherwise the property will be resold; provided that he may pay ten (10) percent of purchase price (but not less than $30,000.00) at time of sale and the balance on or before Monday, October 9, 1956 at 10:00 o'clock A. M. E.S.T. at the United States Marshal's Office, 810 New Federal Building, Pittsburgh 19, Pennsylvania, at which time the property will be resold if the balance is not paid and in such case all monies paid in at original sale shall be applied to any deficiency in the price at which property is resold; provided, however, that in the event the Federal Housing Commissioner is the successful bidder at the sale the necessity for the deposit of the ten per cent of the purchase price shall be waived; and provided further that if successful bidder is the plaintiff in the execution the amount of his bid shall be applied in reduction of the amount of the judgment and he shall not be obliged to pay the amount of his bid, otherwise writ will be returned "real estate unsold" and all monies advanced by plaintiff will be applied as required by the Chief Judge of the United States District Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania. Before the deed will be executed and acknowledged, purchasers must furnish to the United States Marshal for the Western District of Pennsylvania the State Stamps required by "The Realty Transfer Tax Act" and Tax Stamps required by the Borough of Warren in a Deed Transfer Tax. The Federal Housing Commissioner is exempt from the payment of any of these taxes and therefore this requirement is not applicable if the Federal Housing Commissioner is the successful bidder.
